

Scappoose Adventist School

Welcomes Author

Tricia Brown

Reading, Q&A, and Booksigning

Thursday, February 19, at 12:30 PM

Tricia Brown will be visiting our school and sharing her books for all ages, from preschool to adults.

After writing and editing for newspapers in Fairbanks and Anchorage, Tricia served as editor-in-chief of ALASKA magazine. Later, she was acquisitions editor for Alaska Northwest Books and WestWinds Press, imprints of Graphic Arts Center Publishing Company in Portland. There she solicited and reviewed manuscripts, negotiated contracts, and ushered books through the publication process. And she continued to write her own books.

Tricia's children's books include the award-winning Children of the Midnight Sun, Alaskan Night Before Christmas, Groucho's Eyebrows, and The Itchy Little Musk Ox, a 07-08 Battle of the Books selection for Alaskan kindergartners. Tricia also has written a dozen nonfiction books for adults—nearly all about Alaska. They include her best-selling guide to driving the Alaska Highway, three books on sled-dog racing, and others. Longtime Alaskans, Tricia and her husband Perry now live in Scappoose, where Tricia works at home, writing and editing full time. She travels often, making school visits and speaking at travel and writing conferences.
